

GIAN GIACOMO POLDI PEZZOLI BETWEEN MILAN AND EUROPE

Travels, connections and patterns of taste of a mid-19th century collector

INTERNATIONAL STUDY DAY – MILAN OCTOBER 11th 2022,
9 a.m. – 6 p.m. GMT + 1

The international study day organised by the Poldi Pezzoli Museum in collaboration with the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore and the Society for the History of Collecting, aims to celebrate the bicentenary of the birth of Gian Giacomo Poldi Pezzoli (1822-1879). Creator of the museum of the same name, this conference intends to explore his biographical profile and reconstruct his personal and cultural connections within a European context.

The pioneering studies by A. Mottola Molfino (1989) and the research undertaken in 2011 on the occasion of the exhibition Gian Giacomo Poldi Pezzoli. L'Uomo e il Collezionista del Risorgimento (L. Galli; F. Mazzocca) emphasised the role of the collector as a precursor of innovative museographic models in Italy. The time has come to examine his work in the light of the new research that has emerged in the last quarter century thanks to the development of studies on the history of collecting and the art market, particularly in Milan. In the same years in which Poldi Pezzoli put together his collection, Milan became one of the most important centre of the international art market, attracting scholars, merchants and travellers, including agents sent by the directors of the national museums of London, Berlin and Paris, who were in the process of building up their collections.

The conference is funded by Italian Ministry of Culture-Direzione generale Educazione, ricerca e istituti culturali, Regione Lombardia and DemhistiCOM.

Scientific Committee: Silvia Davoli, Lavinia Galli and Alessandra Squizzato.
